Implement this section where a need to notify has been determined and the potential effects of the pollution incident are widespread and applicable to the general community.

InfraBuild has determined that in the event of an emergency which has the potential to affect the residential area, communication to residents will occur via the Emergency Alert System managed by local emergency services. The Emergency Alert System sends messages to landlines and mobile phones in the area concerned as nominated by Emergency Services.

Other methods of community notification may also be employed based upon an assessment of the circumstances by the emergency agency controller.
